RELIABILITY

Reliability—the crowning virtue of Dewar's. All its merits in distillation, blending, purity age and flavour contribute to this one great end:—that no matter when or where you buy Dewar's you can, without any fear of disillusionment, rely on an unvarying measure of rarest pleasure that makes Dewar's a perfect treasure.

NUISANCES TO THE GAME.

A player whose form is not consistently good, but his attendances are, is a better man to the game and his team than one who cannot be relied upon to turn out when picked. Even to-day there are First Grade teams that cannot always field an eleven, and that must be deplored.

But a greater nuisance to Soccer is a defaulting referee. This season has been particularly unfortunate in this respect, and if it continues, we will have to create referee reserves. The other [illegible] appearance of the referee. Needless to say, the end of the game was played in the twilight, and the players dressed by moonlight, which is not very pleasant, especially at Mascot. The above facts point to something which should be considered by M.C., M.S.F.A. When there is only one match on a ground, why start so late as 3.15? Surely 2.30 would be late enough. Players dressing in half-dark and hunting for collar studs, secretaries looking for money, and team presidents looking at their

LAST SATURDAY'S MATCH

An Impression.

The possibilities of making quaintance with a game that always appealed to me, but has been given secondary considera prompted me to allow the "Rugg blood to rest for one Saturday. say the least, I was impressed the game, but one outstanding ture that did not serve to imp me was the lack of combinatio the part of the "Blues."

At times they seemed hopel at sea as a result of the onsla of passing rushes, brought to by the New Zealanders. Ignora to the inner workings of the "S cer" Association, permit me, may, to offer a suggestion which not already in force, might be some value.

After the team is picked, get players together and make t train together on at least two af noons before a match, and by means they will learn something the style and play of one anoth and formulate plans for attack defence to beat the opposition for

It is apparent that we have talent available, but without at le a little combination it seems to that the "Blues'" colours will lowered in the Tests, and without tention of the "ashes" there every possibility of retarding progress of a game which has alre claimed at least one more enthusia who was, but a short week ago, ardent "Rugby" follower.

PROGRESS.

Of the many clever and thrilling incidents that were witnessed in last Saturday's international struggle, none will remain in the mind so long as the wonderful spectacle that the thousands who viewed the game presented. It was a crowd that many devoted followers of the code have often visualised, but were sceptical of it ever materialising. One thing is almost certain, and that is, we are now entering the strait that will lead to the success for which we have for so long striven.

It has already been publicly stated that negotiations are in progress with a view of securing the Sydney Cricket Ground (No. 1) for the Second Test, which is set down to take place on the 16th June. Should success attend these efforts, it will do much to consolidate the progress that has already been achieved.

The season has opened brilliantly and augurs well for the immediate future. It would appear that the day is not far distant when test matches against Great Britain will not be merely a dream, but an accomplished fact.

GLADESVILLE HOSPITAL.

A very interesting game too place on Saturday, 26th, at Glades ville, when the Hospital had a vic tory over the Firemen by defeatin them 5 goals to 3. The scorers fo the Hospital were Andrews (3) Thompson, and Webster.

S. Arthur, who is a recent arriva from South Australia, is keen o fielding for any team requiring th services of a goalie. He has ha considerable experience in tha capacity. Inquiries should be ad dressed to the Editor.

REPLY TO CORRECTIONS.

In issues of 19th and 26th May re game N.S.W. v. Queensland i 1890, I must admit an error occurre in my notes. An inter-State mate was decided, but the fixture wa afterwards abandoned. The contest have since been revived as an annua affair. I am very much indebte to "Secretary of an Old-time Club" and "Vol" for corrections and re marks on this subject. I would b pleased with many other enthusiast to see further contributions on earl history, and I'm certain the gentle men referred to, with others, coul supply authentic information.

NEW ZEALAND TEAM.

BACK ROW: C. Dacre, W. Brownlee, J. Kissock, R. C. Craxton, J. Flood, R. Innes, W. R. Thomas.
MIDDLE ROW: H. Graves (Assistant Manager), R. McAuley, K. Donaldson, G. M. Campbell, G. E. Jones, H. Balk, H. G. Mayer (Manager)
FRONT ROW: J. R. Braithwaite, N. McArthur, C. W. Ballard, J. Dryden.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The Victorian team arrived in Sydney on Thursday last, and went straight to Newcastle, where they play to-day.

That the match, Victoria v. N.S.W., which takes place on Monday, promises to be as brimful of interest as the N.S.W.-New Zealand game.

The prices for admission will be 2/- and 1/-.

An all-day programme will be played at Wentworth Park commencing 9.45 a.m.

The average weight of the New Zealand players is 11 stone.

The Metropolitan Junior Team will go to Newcastle on June 4th, instead of the Newcastle team visiting Sydney on that date.

Kissock, the New Zealander, was not a resident of New Zealand in 1922, but is a recent arrival.

Ten of the visitors are New Zealand born.

Mr. Morrow, M.L.A., reckons Soccer football (and he abhors the name "Soccer") is the only game of football—the other game is Rugby.

The Lord Mayor of Sydney (Ald. Gilpin) witnessed a game between Adamstown and Wallsend on the Tramway ground, Newcastle, and is anxious to see more games of the same quality.

There are some in our midst—you may call them pessimists—who reckon the standard of play has not improved since 1905.

The attendance at last Saturday's match was a record for Australia, and estimated officially at 10,000.

Quite a lot of people reckon 2/6 and 1/6 too high as admission charges, and yet 3/3 and 1/7½ is paid quite cheerfully at Rugby League matches.

The Association faces a liability of about £2,000 in connection with this tour, and there may not be much over after all the accounts have been paid, unless the gates maintain the same average amount as last Saturday.

South Australia is very anxious to send a team to N.S.W. this season, but it is questionable whether the length of the season will stand the strain.

The First Round Gardener Cup matches will be played on Monday, June 4th.

The P.S.A.A.A. expects over this year teams of South Australian and Queensland boys.

Sir,—I would like to say a few words with reference to the New South Wales team, in the hope that they may come under the notice of the selectors.

Along with the "Soccer" public in general, I was indeed very much surprised to find that so far, that grand full-back, "J. Crum," has been excluded from the State teams. When one recalls the great displays he has given this season, the decision of the selectors is puzzling. With due credit to F. When bustled by the tall forwards of N.Z., Gallen was at a complete disadvantage. Crum has height, strength, and clever tackling abilities, and was the best full-back in the Metropolitan v. Illawarra match.

Another suggestion is that the Selectors should pick a heavier team when next the State plays New Zealand, as our players were repeatedly bustled off the ball last Saturday by their heavier opponents.

Yours sincerely,

"ROVER."

"C. TIMMS."

That height is not always a necessary item in a Soccer player is proved conclusively by the displays of the above player as left half-back for Pyrmont Club. Although on the small side, he has shown that a stocky physique, combined with cleverness, can hold its own with the best of players. Graduating from the Junior to Senior grade, he has more than fulfilled the hopes of the "Blues" selectors of two seasons past, and is undoubtedly the most promising of the Junior half-backs. Splendid tackling, combined with his excellent placings to his forward line, leave nothing to be desired. He is a "natural" footballer, as was his father and uncle. Old Soccer players will remember "Charlie Timms" and "Percy Timms." Both were recognised as two of the finest players of their day.

Since the selectors are on the lookout for promising juniors—quite the correct attitude, too—here is one that cannot be overlooked.

"ROVER."

REPLACING INJURED PLAYERS.

Discussion Up North.

"By arrangement made before the commencement of a match, other than a competition fixture, substitutes may be allowed to replace injured players."

In view of the international fixtures in Queensland next month, the above decision of the English Football Association (as reported in the English Press) is important. It now forms part of Law 1 of the game, which has also been amended to read:—"The game shall not be played by more than eleven players on each side. In the "Pink-un" on April 5, I pointed out that when the N.S.W. representative Soccerites were in Queensland in 1921, the Queensland Football Association agreed—perhaps a little reluctantly—to the suggestion that an injured player during the first half of any inter-State game should be replaced by another man. The arrangement was undoubtedly a desirable one, and it was adhered to again last season; but the Q.F.A. early this season decided that it would not tolerate the practice in fixture. The contention of the Q.F.A. was that there was nothing in the rules which permitted the replacement of injured players during a match, but I pointed out at the time that they had overlooked the fact that it was not specifically laid down in the rules that such replacements should not be made. Still, the Q.F.A. adhered to its decision, but the latest amendment of Law 1 puts a different complexion on things.

It will be noticed that it is not specified whether the decision to permit the replacement of injured players in other but competition matches applies to the first half of the game only. From the wording of the amendment, it would appear that incapacitated men may be replaced at any time during an interstate, international or intercity fixture, and this is a departure from anything which even the Rugby League has adopted. The principle of substitute for injured players is confined to only the first half of League games.

New South Wales has always favoured the amendment. The New South Wales F.A., through the agency of its secretary (Mr. Syd. Storey), after voluminous correspondence on the subject had passed between it and the Q.F.A. [illegible]

REFEREES.

By Ern. Lukeman.

Much has been written and much is still being said of the individual who takes up the onerous duties of the whistle, but little genuine constructive criticism has been put forward as a solution to the alleged shortage of referees. This scribe, who may reasonably claim to have a fair knowledge of refereeing, does not propose to go down on his knees to old players to beg of them to share his troubles by taking up the whistle, but does propose to offer a little advice to the younger referee, and also to those who contemplate the rash act of adjudicating upon the misdeeds of our playing fraternity. In the first instance, make up your mind that you are going to make a complete success of the task you are undertaking. Remember the assimilation of the referee's chart is only the acquirement of a technical knowledge of the job.

Do not run away with the idea that the passing of an examination completes your education. If you are to be a success, there are many other attributes which must be acquired. You must have a perfect knowledge of the laws of the game, and must develop a personality. You must be a keen judge of human nature, remembering that each player is likely to differ in temperament; therefore, you need tact.

Remember a kind word to a player sometimes has a greater effect than drastic measures.

I do not give you this to imply a weak application of powers. You are the sole judge, and, as it is the game you stand for, and not the individual, bear in mind that Soccer must not be brought into disrepute.

Never anticipate that you will give universal satisfaction. You will always get criticism from an audience.

You will soon learn that a referee requires to be fit. He must keep pace with the play, and incidents invariably occur when you are not on the spot. You will require a good watch, and even more essential, a good whistle.

Do not argue with the players, or indicate that you are sorry for any decision during the game; give a decision. Promptness with the whistle inspires confidence, but there are times when a little hesitancy might be adopted with good [illegible] a player who has been fouled an advantage by not stopping the game. You will soon discover that spectators and often players themselves are slow to appreciate your foresight, but do not let this deter you.

Be on the ground early. Bustling to change is disconcerting, and you need to look over your ground to get its geography.

Do not fail to use the lines on the ground as a guide to offside, etc. They are splendid assets to the referee.

Be strictly conscientious, and aspire to the highest honours in the game.

Do not invite criticism.

Do not criticise a fellow-referee. If you are asked for an opinion, only give it on actual laws of the game, not on the decision. We get quite enough criticism outside, without contributing to it amongst ourselves.

PYRMONT RANGERS II.

S. Lind, the pivot, is a player of outstanding quality, and this season has already netted fifteen goals.

Clarke is a clever half, and reminds one of seeing Loveridge in action.

Of the two backs, Burke stands supreme. He tackles well, and places his balls to his men.

The goal-keeper is cool and collected, and has saved his team on numerous occasions. Three goals have been scored this season.

RULES WHICH DON'T FIT!

By Owen Williams, the Famous International Outside Left of Clapton Orient.

I do not know exactly how long it is since there were first such things as rules under which this game of football was played. But it is quite certain that the present rules of the game have only reached the stage in which we know them by a long process of what might be called evolution. From time to time changes have been made—some because the game has developed along lines which were unexpected, and sometimes because experience has proved that the present rules did not work out in the best interests of the sport. Always, of course, the idea in regard to rules of any game must be to make the punishment for breach of such rules to fit the crime, and although of necessity it is advisable to walk very carefully in regard to rule alterations, suggestions are made from time to time with a view to improvement. No harm can be done in examining some of these suggestions here, and that is what I propose to do.

As I have hinted, the suggestions to which special attention should, so it seems to me, be given all the time are those which would correct the rules so that the punishment for breach should the better fit the "crime." In this connection I noticed the other day that a well-known football legislator had expressed the hope that before another season began an alternative would be made in regard to a certain kind of free kick, which would help in the direction of making the rule fit.

FOULS NEAR PENALTY AREA.

This idea was in regard to the offence committed by the defending side just outside the penalty area, and I think most people will be inclined to agree with the football legislator that something might possibly be done to reduce the number of offences within a few yards of the penalty area.

After all, there is not much difference between a foul a yard outside the penalty area and one a yard inside, yet the punishment is very different in the two cases. If the foul is inside the area, then a penalty kick must be awarded, and from this, as we know, the side which has offended is likely to be debited with

If the foul is inside the area, then a penalty kick must be awarded, and from this, as we know, the side which has offended is likely to be debited with a goal. But the free kick for fouls just outside the penalty area very seldom result in goals being scored. The defenders see to this all right. In the first place, they put a defender to stand under the bar to help the goalkeeper, and then seven or eight players are lined up as near to the ball as the rules of the game allow, and this almost completely bars the way to a goal so far as a direct shot is concerned. A moment's reflection will be sure to help the reader to recall cases of fouls just outside the penalty area when the man fouled has had a very excellent chance of scoring a goal.

Is there any way in which this difficulty of punishment, which does not fit the crime, can be got over. An idea which is certainly worth careful consideration is that offences just outside the penalty area should be treated differently from offences in other parts of the field. How would it do if such free kicks within a certain distance of the penalty area were taken under penalty kick conditions? By that I mean that the kick would be taken from the spot where the offence was committed but that all the defending players, except the goalkeeper, should be behind the ball. This would give the taker of a free kick just outside the penalty area a sporting chance of driving the ball into the net, and might have the effect of reducing the number of offences which are committed, so to speak, by fellows with one eye on the penalty line.

Protestant Churches Association

On Monday we will be sending away more representative teams than we have ever essayed before. The first team will be going to Goulburn, to meet the Railway team there. Whether or not Capt. Ernie Gorman will be able to lead his team to victory time alone will show. The selectors have had a very difficult task (to pick three teams from about 700 playing members), and teams should not judge them too hardly. Also the players selected to represent should do all in their power to justify such selection, otherwise they might find themselves out in the cold on the return matches. A full report of all three representative matches will appear in next week's issue.

From the appended First Grade Table, it will be seen that Austen's have a good lead, in fact, is even better than it actually appears, as all their victories have been absolutely decisive. The smallest score that Secretary Eslake has reported is two-nil. The only team they have not yet met that has a chance of shaking them up is Alexandria Congs. A. To-day St. Paul's, Austen's F.C., and Dulwich Hill Baptist A. should have easy victories. Alexandria Congs. A and Lakemba Congs. A match should prove interesting.

What's happened to All Souls'? The A's have hardly fielded a full team this season. Recently rumours have been about that they are going to follow the beautiful (?) example set by Stanmore Pres. last year and the season before, and drop out. We hope this yarn has no foundation, for it would be a pity to see the founders of the Association (now 46 teams strong) drop out in such an undignified manner. What is your "B" team doing? They appear to have more than a full team each week, and some very good players too, as compared with "A" team. Is there mismanagement on the part of the "A" team, or is the "B" team "pot" hunting. We certainly hope that the "A" team will recover itself.

In Second Grade "A" Division, St. John's Balmain and St. Alban's Ultimo "A" are having a good go. When they meet at Centennial Park on 9th a good game should result. St. Anne's, Ryde Methodist and St. that both their teams are in such good positions. St. Thomas' are veritable mites, but still they come up smiling each week, and their record is not too bad.

In the "B" Division, Austen's Juniors look like having things their own way, though St. Aidan's Botany and Tempe are not to be ignored.

Peter Cram.

Another case of two teams from the same church, and both leading.

Teams are reminded that Peter is still in Prince Alfred Hospital and would welcome visitors, letters, or reading matter.

Concert.

The concert held last Monday was, speaking generally, fairly well backed up by some of the Juniors, but the Seniors were not there. Out of 700 registered players not more than about 200 attended. There were also about 125 outsiders. Yet teams will say, why doesn't the Associatoin do this, that and the other, but they will not try to help. Incidentally it might be mentioned that a firstclass programme was staged. Those present will confirm this. Club Secretaries should return money and unsold tickets at once, as the Taxation Department is calling for a return.

WHO WILL REPRESENT QUEENSLAND?

By "Right Half."

The international, Alec. Gibb, who toured the Dominion with the Australian last year, and is now coach-player to South Brisbane Scottish, a second division club, was hardly up to previous seasons' form in the inter-city games. Gibb may make an ideal skipper, and he has been a great player in his day, but constant association this year with second division elevens is not making his star of fame rise. It is, therefore, quite unlikely that Gibb will find a place in the Queensland XI.

As with Gibb, so with other erstwhile first division stars who have seen fit to remain in the second division this year. They have very little opportunity of meeting first-class senior elevens—their task against elevens whose players general are inferior to those in the first division is a comparatively easy one, and the result is that they allow themselves to become rather stale. When a man is constantly playing against the best players Brisbane can produce, he naturally is getting more experience in such a position than would be the case if he were Saturday after Saturday arrayed against opponents considerably less skilful than he himself claims to be. It is, therefore, logical to argue that only those players who show consistent good form amongst players of their own class in the first division should have any claims for representative honours.

The more one discusses second division players' prospects of being picked for the big matches next month, the more he is convinced that the personnel of the Queensland XI. must comprise first division stars only, although, perhaps, if sentimental reasons continue to prevail in the selectors' minds, Reeves, from the second division, might be included as a reserve. The selectors' most difficult task of all will be that of deciding on a suitable goalie. Neither Hamilton nor Bryant have shown consistent form this season. Bryant's chief failure is his unreliable method of clearance, whilst Hamilton is in brilliant form one week and exactly the reverse the next. Shirra, of Thistle, also has his fits of inconsisteney, although many would liked to have seen him in action for Brisbane against Ipswich on Eight-hour Day. It a win yet; still, we find that of matches he has played, Pickersgil had only nine goals scored ag him, whilst Bryant, of Brisbane with a comparatively good def has let through 13 goals in matches, and Hamilton 15 in matches. Although George Hu of Bush Rats, has had the advan of having a very sound defenc front of him, I think that his ge form right through the season j fies his selection as Queensla goalie. He has only missed five g in five matches.

Little difficulty should be ex enced by the selectors in choosir suitable pair of backs. Geo. H (Corinthians) and Gedge (I Rats) should make a strong duo. I are cool and reliable in defence, quick to transfer the ball to the tack. They are powerful kicks, Gedge especially, and I do not k of any other two backs in Queens who could match them. I prefer ei of them to McBride (Thistle) bec their form this season has been sistently on a high level, McBride's has not. McBride, ever, should get a reserve position. Hudson (Brisbane City) has impressed this season with ra sound defensive work. The h back trio will probably be J. I (Thistle), J. Peebles (Thistle), J. White (North Coast). Incid ally, Peebles is an odds on favou for the position of Queensland's s per. His play and also that of L is too well known to need special c ment here. White played interst last year, and when he appeared Woolloongabba on Eight-hour I recently he proved himself to be indefatigable worker, and he gres hampered Brisbane's forwards. N only did he constantly foil and br up Brisbane's combination, but ever on the alert in assisting that his own side, and generally gave impression of being a crack h The only thing that may tell agai White's selection is that he was playing in left half on Eight-h Day. He appeared as North Coas centre half; but he is equally as g in the left, as he demonstrated in interstate game last year. The sel tors, too, may seize the opportun to include representation of North Coast in the Queensland elev

The selectors' most difficult task of all will be that of deciding on a suitable goalie. Neither Hamilton nor Bryant have shown consistent form this season. Shirra, of Thistle, also has his fits of inconsistency, although many would liked to have seen him in action for Brisbane against Ipswich on Eight-hour Day. It is not easy to judge a good custodian, however, unless he is behind a weak pair of backs, and I think that taking all things into consideration, Piskersgill, of Corinthians, has as good a record this season as any. Corinthians is the weakest team in the premiership competition. It has not had him, and only nine goals scored against him, whilst Bryant, of Brisbane City, with a comparatively good defence, has let through 13 goals in five matches, and Hamilton 15 in five matches. Although George Hughes, of Bush Rats, has had the advantage of having a very sound defence in front of him, I think that his general form right through the season justifies his selection as Queensland's goalie. He has only missed five goals in five matches.

Little difficulty should be experienced by the selectors in choosing a suitable pair of backs. Geo. Harris (Corinthians) and Gedge (Bush Rats) should make a strong duo. Both are cool and reliable in defence, and quick to transfer the ball to the attack. I prefer either of them to McBride (Thistle) because their form this season has been consistently on a high level, and McBride's has not. McBride, however, should get a reserve position. T. Hudson (Brisbane City) has also impressed this season with rather sound defensive work. The half-back trio will probably be J. Love (Thistle), J. Peebles (Thistle), and J. White (North Coast). Incidentally, Peebles is an odds on favourite for the position of Queensland's skipper. His play and also that of Love, is too well known to need special comment here. White played interstate last year, and when he appeared at Woolloongabba on Eight-hour Day recently he proved himself to be an indefatigable worker, and he greatly hampered Brisbane's forwards. Not only did he constantly foil and break up Brisbane's combination, but was ever on the alert in assisting that of his own side, and generally gave the impression of being a crack half. The only thing that may tell against White's selection is that he was not playing in left half on Eight-hour Day. He appeared as North Coast's centre half; but he is equally as good in the left, as he demonstrated in the interstate game last year. The selectors, too, may seize the opportunity to include representation of the North Coast in the Queensland eleven.

W. Bratten, the international forward, is the only other North Coaster who could justify a place in the eleven. But J. Steel, of the Thistle Club, is a much superior inside right man, and would probably receive priority at the hands of the selectors. W. Mitchell, of Brisbane City, small, but tricky, and exceptionally fast, whose well judged centres are a feature of any game in which he figures, Tommy Hainsworth (Bush Rats) is a certainty as pivot, and George Brown, if he has recovered sufficiently from his injured leg, may be chosen as a reserve for the position. Judging by his form at the 'Gabba on Saturday, and in the match against Brisbane on Eight-hour Day, W. Warrell, of Bush Rats, is regarded as "a sure thing" for the selectors' choice as outside left, and the dangerous shooting E. Edwards, of Bush Rats, should get the inside position.

I have made the above possible selections purely on form, but there are other players who doubtless will come under the selectors' eyes either for inclusion in the team itself or as reserves. Here are a few of them:—Pickersgill (Corinthians), L. Warrell, R. Rumble, and Johnny Hainsworth (Bush Rats), Eddie Green and Nicholson (Pineapple Rovers), W. McBride (Thistle), Bothwell (Brisbane City), and J. Pedley (Bundamba). But if I were asked to pick a team it would be as follows:—G. Hughes (Bush Rats), G. Harris (Corinthians), Gedge (Bush Rats), J. Love (Thistle), J. Peebles (Thistle), J. White (North Coast), Mitchell (Brisbane City), Steel (Thistle), E. Edwards (Bush Rats), W. Warrell (Bush Rats), T. Hainsworth (Bush Rats). Not one of the above players went to New Zealand last year.

THE N.D.B.F.A.

DELEGATES' MEETING.

Mr. H. H. Winley presided over Saturday's delegates meeting. It was agreed to run the third grade as a two-round competition. The delegates' report of the recent State v. Newcastle dispute was accepted, and the opinion expressed that Newcastle had got out of the position in a satisfactory manner. The resignation of the president, Mr. S. Howard, was received. A somewhat lengthy discussion ensued, the resignation being accepted with regret. Mr. A. A. Stirling was elected to the vacancy, and this makes the fourth president the N.D.B.F.A. have had this season. The question of the committee was discussed, and finally Messrs Winley and Smith were elected to the vacancies, Messrs. Shaw, Stewart, Stott and Locker being vote beaten. The question of grandstand alterations was left to the committee, with power to act in the matter.

Messrs. Stott, Skillings, Craig, Winley and Stirling were elected senior selection committee. Messrs. Skillings, Broadbent, Hamilton, Shipp and Gilchrist were chosen junior selectors.

About 2,000 persons witnessed the match Granville v. New Zealand at Clyde on Empire Day.

The visitors were received at Clyde station by his Worship the Mayor, Ald. Membrey, Mr. E. Thackray, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and also by the aldermen and members of the C.O.C.

After a few formal words of welcome the party moved over to the ground, where they were welcomed by the Treasurer of the G.D.F.A., F. W. Barlow, and Bentley Hyslop, Hon. Sec., and other members of the Association.

The early match was between those old opponents, Rosehill and Superior, in the Schools' Competition.

The result was a draw with 2 each. Billy Davey had charge of the whistle.

The big match was in charge of Billy Allerton, who gave general satisfaction.

We have read comments on one decision where the centre charged Atcheson rather hard. The charge might have been a good one had Teddy possession of the ball. He was knocked before he got it. In my opinion the referee's decision was absolutely fair. He disallowed the goal for illegally charging on the part of the N.Z. centre.

After the match the players and party adjourned to the Town Hall.

At 8 o'clock all adjourned to the School of Arts, where the fair sex took charge till 11 o'clock, when our guests joined in singing 'Auld Lang Syne,'' and then caught the 5 past 11 train to the city.

We have challenged N.Z. to a return match, and hope to have a chance of meeting them.

Auburn Juniors have arranged to play at Goulburn this Saturday and Harden on Monday.

We hope they have an enjoyable trip, and that they do some good for the game down south.

United have also arranged to go down the South Coast on Monday.

Congratulations to Stan. Burke on his selection in the N.S.W. team, and trust he retains that position right through the tests.

Harry Spurway, your turn has come—not before you deserve it. We wish you well on Monday against the Victorians. Now you are there with Stanley we believe you are both going to take some shifting.

We also believe there are others in your team who should be with you.

Until the present abeminable method of selection is scrapped we cannot hope for more. Why should an Australian or N.S.W. team be picked from all Associations?

Rovers have been given the use of Clyde on Monday. They have arranged to play a Lithgow team.

Entries for the ''Cottam Memorial Cup'' have been extended till the 11th June. Eleven teams have entered to date.

It is hoped to play the first round on Prince of Wales' Birthday with all-day matches at Clyde.

The proceeds of these matches are allotted to the local hospitals. Last year £16 was cut up and much appreciated by the three hospitals concerned.

Local fixtures were continued last Saturday.

In the Juvenile, Hobroyd and Auburn A were on even terms—no score.

Carlingford still on top, 4—2, over Auburn B.

St. John's failed to turn up to Lidcombe.

Kewpies dressed United up 2—1, and West Ryde ticked off 2—0 against Auburn C.

In the Junior, Carlingford, of orange fame, peeled Auburn B, 4—0. Auburn A went after Rovers 17—0.

In the All-age, Auburn Juniors had their work cut out to hold United, scoring 1 just before half-time; the result was in doubt right up to full time. Good luck, United, keep at it!

Ferndale and St. John's were on even terms, 1 each.

Lidcombe, still keeping their end up, defeated Caledonians, 1—0.

Hobroyd blackened Kewpies 2—1 and Ryde rode over Rovers 3—0.

In the Churches section St. Mark's put it all over Thistles, 4—2. Both teams require some shaking up.

Baptist at last got a win over Mission.

Congs. and Auburn Pres. drew, neither side scoring.

AUBURN—ALL-AGE.

As a reader of the "News," I would like to point out an error in the issue for May 24th, where, under Granville Association items, you state that Auburn District (All Age) defeated Caledonians, 3-1, which should have been 9-0. This team's goal average is now 24 goals for and nil against, being the result of three matches only, as one week they gained the bye. They have been very much one-sided. There does not appear to be a team in their division that is likely to provide an even match against them. They look as though they will repeat last year's record, when they ran to the semi-final of the Junior State Championship, although the team was an under eighteen combination.

About Clubs and Players. ....

All fixtures will be resumed to-day after the break of one Saturday. The principal matches on headquarters will be Pyrmont Refinery and Marrickville Avoca in the early game. The latter team is undefeated, whilst Pyrmont have only one victory to their credit. The form of the latter club of late has been very disappointing. Their last match on Primrose Park against Lilyfield, when they held them to a one goal draw, gave promise of greater things, but unfortunately has not been realised. The "Avoca" appear to have an easy game, but one never knows.

In the late fixture Lakemba will try conclusions with the undefeated Dulwich Hill combination. The form displayed by the former club in the last few matches makes them a team to be reckoned with, and the "Hill" team will need to be all "out" to still maintain their position at the head of the competition table.

On No. 2 ground the outstanding match will be Balmain Gladstone and Annandale Altona. Both teams are well up in the competition table, and are expected to give a good account of themselves. The former club have many players who have represented the State in their school-time days.

The late match between Chester United and St. Peters should also be a good fixture. Both these clubs are together on the competition table, although not at the top. An even game, with the odds even, is the result. Lilyfield will meet the First-Aid Brigade as the early fixture on Arncliffe Park. The latter have not clubs sit up. Lilyfield will be very unwise to take them too cheap. Beware, Messrs. Jones & Co.!

The Committee of the Junior have had several complaints as to the conduct of the Pyrmont Clubs, and as a consequence both these teams were before them last week, and after hearing the evidence, decided that the C Grade team, who were doing their first season, should be severely censured, and should they come before the Committee again, they will be more harshly dealt with. In the case of the B Grade, this being the third report of this character, they were disqualified for the remainder of the season. This same team were similarly dealt with last season, but on appeal to the Council the suspension was lifted. This should be a warning to players. The game must be kept clean, and we ask for the help of all players and club officials in this direction.

Captains and Secretaries please note that team lists must be made out on the official forms supplied by the Association, and handed to the referee before the match starts; also do not forget to send the result of your match each week to the Secretary of the Association.

CANTERBURY DISTRICT JUNIOR ASSOCIATION.

The two undefeated "A" Grade teams, Canterbury Park Juniors and Bankstown, are to meet next Saturday at Bankstown. Spectators can be sure of witnessing a good and fast game.

As expected, Canterbury Park Juniors (C.D.F.A.) defeated Canterbury Juniors (M.J.F.A.) in a challenge match from the latter, 3-1. This speaks well for the newly-formed Association, and goes to show that our clubs are up to standard of other junior associations.

The C.D.F.A. are holding a monster euchre party and dance in Canterbury Town Hall on Saturday, July 7, tickets, gents 2/-, ladies 1/. Valuable prizes will be given for euchre. Tickets can be procured from the following committee: Messrs. Nuttall, Briggs, Hoseman, Spowall and Parker.

"Soccerites, keep this date in mind."

Delegates please note that in future meetings will be held in Hope Bros.' shop, Beamish Street, Campsie, on Tuesday next and every Monday following.

A special meeting of the Referees' Association will be held next Tuesday in the Hon. Secretary's residence, "Tyneside," Burns Street, Campsie. Business important.
